5 The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

U. S. Patent #5,326,959 to Perazza is cited for showing a method of marking bar codes by hand.

U. S. Patent #4,877,948 to Krueger is cited for showing a combined mark-sense bar code form and system.

10 U. S. Patent #4,479,194 to Fogg et al. is cited for showing a response form for elections using hand drawn marks.

U. S. Patent #3,839,625 to Cahdima, Jr. et al. is cited for showing an apparatus for hand marking bar codes.

15 Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-33 are allowed.

20 The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Swartz and Stewart are the primary references in the art for combining marks and bar codes. Applicant discusses these in the background of the invention, and points out the differences between Applicant's invention and these references. The claims clearly define over these. The claims are drawn to a mark adjacent to the bar code, and both of these use marks internal to the bar code. The hand-marked codes are read concurrently, which rules out references such as Kreuger. Chadima is cited of interest for forming the whole code by hand. The Perazza disclosure is similar to, but the converse of, the scheme shown in Swartz, in that it eliminates bar codes from being read. The bulk of the prior art which uses bar codes to collect user responses focusses on schemes such as Coffey et al.

25 Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for
